Project Title

Project Description

Provide a description of 250 to 300 words suitable to introduce funded projects to the HERDSA community. This is not assessed.

Do you want this project to be considered under the Indigenous/First Nations category? Yes/No

If 'Yes', please highlight details of Indigenous/First Nations project members, their roles and/or development pathways in section 'Research team' of the application.

Fit with HERDSA and contributions targeted

Explain how the project relates to HERDSA’s mission, how it will benefit the HERDSA community and why it is important.

Project background and context

Explain how the project relates to previous research and how it is contextualised. Include important literature references.

Research approach

Outline your theoretical perspective, your research methodology and methods, your analysis approach. Address ethics considerations and application procedures (if required). Include project timelines.

Dissemination plan and future research

Identify how you plan to disseminate the project findings and what follow up research you envisage (carried out by your team or others in the HERDSA community).

Research team

Identify the project leader and the team members (names, affiliations, HERDSA membership numbers). Describe the roles of the team members. Identify what qualifies the team members for their roles in the project and how researcher development will be addressed.

Budget

List items you seek funding for. Provide enough detail to allow for an assessment of the appropriateness of the costs. Provide details of additional funding or in-kind support contributed from your institution(s) or other sources, if applicable. Specify Australian GST components.
